

This first set of drawings shows the problems with the old pant pattern, that I'm trying to resolve (drag line, and leg crease twists toward inside of leg):

This next set of drawings shows latest modification to my pattern, to: 1) move CB (and CF) to be on-grain; 2) correct for knock-knees; and 3) lengthen CB crotch because moving it on-grain makes it not long enough. These changes allow the pant to hang better, so crease no longer twists to inside (crease is the grain line), and the drag lines disappeared.
